

Research initiatives taken by IIT Bombay for promoting quality research

Some of the steps taken by IIT Bombay to create an ecosystem for conducting quality education and research in the Institute are given below:

- Financial support for dissemination of research work in conferences both national and international, and for publications.
- Research Park set up to build an ecosystem where the research fraternity / academia and the industry work in close collaboration on research problems, technology challenges and product innovation.